HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER
HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive
Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.
Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. E. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.
It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily applied. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.
It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves, and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO SEPTEMBER 3.

Washington News.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—A Washington special says the Postmaster General has refused to accede to Stokes' request to appoint Gusham Postmaster at Nashville in place of Tompkins.

The Chicago papers of Tuesday reached Washington at five o'clock Wednesday afternoon, twelve hours quicker time than was ever before made.

The President has directed the appointment of Walter E. Gresham U. S. District Judge of Indiana, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge McDonald.

The Secretary of the Navy is reducing the fleet expenses as rapidly as possible. Instead of fifty-five vessels on squadron duty last year, now there are only forty-three.

Several Spanish gun-boats are about completed but the Government will not let them sail at present.

A public mass meeting will be held on Friday to favor the project of holding an International Exposition for all nations in Washington, in 1871. Several large capitalists of the East are said to have the matter in hand.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The President has appointed William G. Morris as Marshal of the State of California.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Senor Robert, accompanied by Secretary Fish, called on the President this morning.

The President has appointed Thomas R. Mortler as Commissioner for the Government of the Central Railroad.

The President after leaving to-night will be absent two weeks.

The public debt statement shows the total debt, principal and interest, to be $2,626,653,087 31. The amount of coin in the Treasury is $101,214,-986 71, and currency $14,448,871 00. Decrease in the debt for the past month $5,604,234 47. Decrease since March 4th is $49,500,758 15.

Senor Roberts presented to-day to the President his credentials as Minister of the Spanish Regency. No formal speech was made. Secretary Fish and Senor Roberts had a brief conversation, which partook more of a social than diplomatic nature, and in which friendly sentiments were interchanged.

The President to-day appointed John H. Stewart, of Pennsylvania, as Consul to Turks Island, Isaac Jennison, of Indiana, as Consul at Glasgow vice James Haggarty; Gen. F. D. Swell, late Inspector General of the Freedmen's Bureau, was appointed by Commissioner Delano as Superintendent to re-survey all the distilleries in the country. The country will probably be divided into districts, in each of which a survey will be conducted by persons selected.

D. M. Bascra, attorney of certain parties in Texas under trial before a military commission, visited the present acting Attorney General and filed a reserved verdict, with the assurance that the arrangements in regard to the habeas corpus in the Yerger case will be adhered to in similar cases. The whole matter, however, was referred by the present Attorney General to Hoar.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Senor Roberts, the Spanish Minister, publishes a card to-day. He denounces as a forgery the letter recently published and reported to have been written by him to the Captain General of Cuba, in reference to the course of the United States on the Cuba question, stating that probably in the future they would be in favor of the Cubans, etc.

Hon. William A. Howard having resigned the appointment of Minister to China, the Administration will in a few days designate his successor. The merits of several gentlemen are under consideration. Great care will be taken to select a proper representative to that country.

A private letter from an eminently responsible source at Madrid reports that Minister Sickles offered the United States as mediator between the Cubans, the proposition being, as stated in the newspapers, that slavery shall be abolished in the Island, the Cubans to pay Spain for the public buildings, fortifications, etc. While Spain does not reject the mediation, there are serious obstacles to an accommodation. The impression among many Spanish statesmen is that the Island will eventually pass from the control of Spain. It is stated that the preliminary demand by Spain is that the Cubans shall lay down their arms, a condition with which it is said they will not comply, for no other reason than that they have no guarantees of protection from the Spanish volunteers, who, according to report, aim at the absolute rule of the island, and have secret organizations for that end.

New York News.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Specials from New York announce the arrival of parties in twenty-eight hours from Chicago. There are indications of a lively competition in the passenger business, and a probable reduction of fair.

The claimants against the Merchants' Union Express Co. are notified to present their claims at the office of the Receiver in Albany.

Dexter's 2 21¼ time to a road wagon yesterday is the topic of conversation among turf men. The best skeleton wagon time on record before was 2 24, made by Dexter two years ago. The wagon and driver, yesterday, weighed 319 pounds.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Bishop McFarland, of Hartford, left by the Cuba yesterday for Rome, to attend the Ecumenical Council. He carries with him ten thousand dollars for the Pope, donations by the Catholic diocases of Hartford. He was also presented with a purse of $5,000 by the clergy, besides donations from prominent laymen to defray his expenses. He is accompanied by Rev. Matthew Hart, of St. Patricks.

Six houses were burned by fire on Grand and Broome streets last night, besides Johnson's lumber yard. They were occupied as tenements and shops by sixteen different parties. Total loss, $30,000.

It is still very cold here, and frost is made in low spots in this vicinity.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Longfellow and family arrived yesterday per steamer China.

The Spanish gunboat was finished to day.

A rumor of a new Cuban expedition is founded on the fact that thirty men have gone to Halifax to join an expedition fitting out there.

A Tribune's special says a desperate fight occurred between a squad of United States soldiers and a band of outlaws whom they were trying to arrest near San Patricio, in Texas. Four outlaws and one soldier were killed and several on both sides wounded.

The steamer Alaska from Aspinwall arrived late last night.

An extensive fire broke out to-night in the lumber yard, corner of Broom and Thompson streets, and swept through the block to Grand, damaging a number of stores and dwellings. Loss over $30,000.

New England Telegrams.

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 2.—The inquest on the body of Bridget Woods, who was killed by her drunken husband on Tuesday morning, during a drunken carousal, was held yesterday. A verdict was found accordingly.

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 2.—General Sherman and daughter arrived this morning from Bangor. They are the guests of James G. Blaine. A public reception was given the General this evening, at the close of which a serenade was given by the citizens, to which the General briefly responded.

Halifax Dispatch.

HALIFAX, Sept. 2.—Yesterday was observed as a holiday. Prince Arthur attended at the grand picnic grounds of the Duke of Kent, on the shore of Bedford Basin. A large number were present, among them Gen. Doyle, Baron Maquete and officers of the French frigate Semiramis. Three hundred persons sat down to a banquet. The Prince left the grounds escorted by a fireman's torch light procession. Crowds thronged the streets and the city was illuminated.

Wisconsin Politics.

MADISON, Sept. 1.—The Republican Convention to-day nominated for Governor, Lucius Fairchild; for Lieut. Governor, L. C. Pound; for Treasurer, Henry Boss; for Secretary of State, E. A. Spencer.

Railroad Collision.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 2.—The eastward bound freight train on the Cincinnati & Louisville Railroad ran into a construction train at Engle Tunnel, yesterday. Both engines were disabled and five cars smashed. One fireman and ten brakemen were seriously injured. The cause of the collision was by the switch being left open by the manager of the construction train.

National Temperance Convention.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—About 350 delegates were present at the National Temperance Convention. Ned Buntline (Judson) represents California. Two hundred and fifty of the delegates are from Illinois. Speeches were made by Gritt, Jewett, Judge Black, of Pennsylvania and Permanent President, E. J. Judson and others.

Judson said seven-tenths of the people of California, male and female, went down to their graves through strong drink. Violent deaths—murders and suicides—are more common in California than any other country. He concluded by pledging California, Nevada and Oregon to elect the temperance ticket.

Gerritt Smith favored the organization of a separate party, but said we must not demand too much at first. If we got the Government to forbid the importation, manufacture and sale of alcohol in large quantities, we shall fail to kill the dram-shop and extirpate the evil. All else will come in good time. Let us educate the people to regard the traffic in liquor as a crime. When the dram-shop is killed, the great cause of temperance will be triumphant. We want a new party called the anti-dram shop party. He spoke against the idea of allowing each town or city to regulate the liquor traffic for itself. The Government must prohibit the selling of liquor at retail. Liquors prohibited should not be named in law, but all intoxicating drinks should be proscribed, and the jury left to determine what will intoxicate. Several speakers denounced the Press and both the Democratic and Republican parties, because their influence is not on the side of temperance. The convention adjourned to this morning.

Montana News.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 2.—A Virginia City, Montana, dispatch says that the Territorial Auditor and Treasurer, elected at the late election, have been removed by Governor Ashley, who has filled their places by appointing. The matter will be contested.

Through fraudulent returns in Madison county and the throwing out for informality at the official count of votes, yesterday, Virginia City was still declared the Capital.

The stage which left Helena last night was robbed of several thousand dollars.

General News.

RICHMOND, Sept. 2.—An explosion occurred on a vessel at Norfolk, yesterday, by which three men were killed, and four or five dangerously wounded. A set of steam pumps has been placed on the vessel to bail her out as she has been wrecked through an accident to her boiler.

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—Gov. Claflin has appointed E. C. Sherman, of Plymouth, and Henry L. Pearce, of Dorchester, State Directors of the Boston and Harvard and Erie Railroad.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 2.—Application has been made to Gov. Stearnes for commutation of death sentence of Joseph L. Pike, who murdered Mr. and Mrs. Brown, at Hampton.

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—Prince Arthur is expected to pass here without any public demonstration on the 20th, going westward on a shooting excursion.

The Chief of the Government Police with twenty men, have gone to Quebec to assist in suppressing the ship laborer's riot.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 2.—At a meeting of the Executive Committee of Arrangements for the fourth annual reunion of the Army of Tennessee, G. W. Endrom, of Lancaster, Ky., was re-elected to deliver the address of welcome. Col. B. H. Drislow was appointed Corresponding Secretary of the Executive Committee.

LANCASTER, PA., Sept. 2.—In the race between Goldsmith Maid and the American Girl, the latter won in 2:30½, 2:26½, 2:30¾.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

California Election.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Returns at 5 o'clock showed that Selby's majority was 126, when it was discovered that a mistake had been made in the Eighth Ward, and that twenty more votes had been counted than was polled. A recount is now being had, but the result will not be known till midnight. The Democrats are chagrined at the defeat of McCoppin.

JACKSON, CAL., Sept. 2.—Full returns from all the precincts in Amador county except one give a Democratic majority as follows: J. T. Farley, Senator, 410; A. C. Brown, Assembly, 165; J. M. Johnson, 300; Durham, for Sheriff, 645; Waldo, District Attorney, 331; Spagnoli, County Clerk, 207; Surface, for Assessor, 476. Balance of the ticket, from 300 to 500.

AUBURN, Sept. 2.—The whole Union Republican ticket in Placer county is elected, except the Senator and Supervisor in the Second District, and possibly Sheriff. Nearly all the returns are in. A few small precincts to hear from, which will not materially change the result.

CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE FAVORING A NEW PARTY.—A Washington dispatch to the New York Herald says:

It is said that just after the result

Foiled by a Woman.

LEAF FROM THE DIARY OF AN OLD DETECTIVE.

[From the New Orleans Picayune.]

"Madame, it is my duty to arrest you"

"You dare not!"

The lips were white with passion rather than fear, and the lady stood before me like lioness at bay. Even then I could not help but note the splendid beauty of this grand lady. Tall and slender, eyes black and flashing—almost lurid now, the spectacle she presented, standing there in the middle of the apartment, was more the appearance of a queen than a hunted criminal.

"I must," I replied, "I do not doubt your innocence. Looking into your face, it is strange that any one could couple it with guilt; but I am constrained to do my duty, Madame, however inimical it may be to my feelings."

"Will you allow me to change my dress" she said, in a tone almost pleasant. The hard lines around the mouth had relaxed, and the passionate glow on the face gave away to a pleasant smile.

"Certainly, I will wait for you here."

"I wish also to send a messenger to a friend; will you permit him to pass?"

"Certainly."

This was my first interview with Eugenia Cornille. I had seen her here for months, the leader of the gayest and most fashionable society. In her splendid mansion she dispensed the most profuse and elegant hospitality.

A Spanish lady—a widow she had represented herself—and had been a resident here almost a year. No one ever suspected her of being aught than what she seemed, until one day I was ordered to arrest her as a murderess.

It was now alledged, said Mr. F., that this young beauty was no other than the woman who had poisoned her husband in Havana, and fled with all his wealth. An immense reward was offered for her apprehension, and the circumstances that had come to our knowledge pointed her out beyond all doubt as the person we were in search of. Yet the person who recognized her the evening before at the theater advised us to be careful lest she should escape us. I laughed at the idea. Mr. I. and myself were surely sufficient to arrest the lady. We were old enough in the ways of cunning to defeat any such attempt. When the lady left me I stepped to the window, and said to Mr. I., who was waiting at the door:

"The lady desires to send a messenger for a friend; suffer him to pass."

Almost at the same instant, the door of the apartment the lady had entered opened, and a youth—apparently a mulatto boy—came out and passed hurriedly through the room into the hall, and from thence into the street. It was no doubt, the — nger, I thought, and I picked up a book, and commenced reading. Nearly an hour passed, and still the lady did not make her appearance, nor did the boy return. The friend she had sent for must live at some distance, I thought, or the lady is unusually careful about her toilet; and so another hour went by. At last I grew impatient and knocked at the door.

"Madame, I can't wait no longer."

There was no reply. I knocked repeatedly, and at last determined to force an entrance. Strange fears harrased me; I began to suspect, I know not what. It took me but a moment to drive in the door, and, once in the apartment, the mystery was revealed. The robes of the lady lay upon the floor, scattered over the room were suits of boys' wearing apparel, similar to that worn by the mulatto boy. On the table was a cosmetic that would stain the skin to a light, delicate brown.

I was [illegible], for a subtlety; the lady had escaped in the disguise of a messenger. I should have detected the ruse; I felt humiliated, and [illegible] to redress my error. I [illegible] not [illegible] in the city an [illegible] then she could get away. I [illegible] her book, but found that she [illegible] the amount due her an hour before.

"Who [illegible] the check?" I asked of the clerk.

"A [illegible] boy. It was made payable to the bearer."

There was a clue yet. The French [illegible] left within an hour and it was possible she would seek that means of escape. I jumped in a cab and arrived there ten minutes before she left the wharf—just in time to [illegible] an [illegible], except old gentleman into the cabin. There were few passengers; none of them answered the description of the lady I sought. I stood on the wharf watching the receding vessel until it disappeared. I was in the act of turning away, when a hack-man approached me with the remark:

"Mr. F., did you see that old man on board. He had a long white beard, and hair that fell on his shoulders?"

"Yes."

"Well, there's something curious about him."

"Why?"

"Why, sir, when he got into my carriage he was a mulatto boy, and when he got out he was an old man."

I will not repeat the expression I used then—it was neither refined nor polite—for I knew the vessel would be far out to sea before she could be overtaken. I was foiled by a woman. Nor could I help rejoicing, now that the chase was over, and that she had escaped.

Innocent or guilty, there was a charm about her none could resist. The spell of her wondrous beauty affected all who approached her. It lingers in my memory yet; and I could not have the sin of her blood upon my conscience.

MR. GREELEY CONFESSES HE SLEEPS IN CHURCH.—We are for treating our Chinese fellow citizens as kindly as possible, but it should be understood that when they become converted to Christianity, there must be no smoking in church, nor must they bring chickens "for to sell" to the congregation; nor must they strip themselves half naked, if it [illegible] to be warm in the sacred edifice; nor must they interrupt the service by begging loudly for cash; nor must they rush out if a [illegible] on should absence to pray. The Chinese neophytes in San Francisco mitigate the tedium of church going by all these devices, but as they are quick to learn, they will soon find out our sovereign defense against dull sermons, and slumber in their pews as sweetly as we do.—New York Tribune, Aug. 4.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

PORTLAND, Sept. 3, 1869.

Money market a little more steady.

New York gold quoted on the 31st ult., the date of our latest dispatches, 133¾@133⅞.

San Francisco legal tenders, 74@75.

Liverpool wheat market shows a decline of 4@6d.

The New York wheat market shows rather more activity, though prices rule about as at our last report.

San Francisco dispatches of the 31st say that the withdrawal of the [illegible] export buyers does the wheat market. It is difficult to place choice shipping above $1 65. Sales of 2,600 sks choice milling, old, $1 65; 3,000 sks choice shipping, $1 65.

Our exchanges from the same quarter report money to buy grain as more plenty, and consequently a revival of the market, though, as will be seen, rates are not better than last week.

Portland markets exhibit no material changes in prices for grain. The new crop appears to be slow coming in. The late heavy rains in Oregon have probably caused a loss of some fields which had not yet been saved. These, however, are not so extensive as to materially lessen the aggregate supply, or bring about a higher rate. Farmers universally assert that wheat raising at the prices of last year and this will not pay. Many of them express a determination not to sell until better rates offer than the present. Owing to competition of two milling firms in the interior we learn that a few lots have been sold at 75 cents, but the ruling price on the river is lower. A rise in the Willamette sufficient to open navigation with the grain growing counties of the valley will soon tell upon the market in Portland. This, during the present month, is not among the most improbable events.

Our general trade has been more active during the week. Merchants and jobbers are well supplied and orders from the interior are coming in more rapidly. The arrival during the week of the Oriflamme with a full cargo, excited the market into more activity than for some time past.

Produce of all kinds is in good supply except perhaps the item of bacon, which is scarce and high. Prices for butter, eggs and lard have an upward tendency, a slight falling off in the receipts since our last report having occurred. Imported goods and groceries seem rather declining, though most of them remain at the [illegible] quotations.

Speculation is rife upon the probable [illegible] fall trade, many predicting a continuation of the dull times of which there has been some complaint during the past season. Some of the California papers predict a financial crisis on the entire coast, which they say is already upon the merchants of San Francisco whose warehouses are full and whose coffers are empty. There is no well grounded reason to fear anything of the kind in Oregon, if proper commercial economy is exercised. The receipt by sailing from one city of a stock of goods from New York by rail in eighteen days less time and at 25 per cent less cost of transportation than they can be obtained by the Isthmus route, may and we think will induce an increased amount of trade in the same direction by our merchants generally, thus rendering our people more independent of California importers. This is something which has long been needed and the inauguration of this course is the beginning of a new era in Oregon's commercial history.

WEST OF THE CASCADES.

OLYMPIA, W. T., May 24, 1869.

THE UNDERSIGNED WOULD RESPECTFULLY solicit subscriptions to enable them to publish a MAP OF WASHINGTON TERRITORY West of the Cascades, compiled from the United States Surveys and the best and latest authorities. The scale is four miles to an inch, making the map sixty seven by fifty one inches. In addition to the topography of the country, the map shows the extent of the surveys, the Indian and Government Reserves, the Prairie lands, the soundings of the principal harbors, and many other particulars not given in previous maps. THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS TEN DOLLARS; RETAIL PRICE, TWELVE DOLLARS. The map will be furnished, colored, mounted and complete, by August 1st. It was forwarded in March to the establishment of Colton & Co., New York, for publication.

Subscriptions may be forwarded to Joseph Cushman, Receiver Land Office, Olympia; W. C. Painter, Walla Walla; A. G. Cook, Vancouver; S. J. McCormick, Portland who will receipt

We call attention to the following endorsements

ENDORSEMENTS.

OLYMPIA, W. T., March 27, 1869.

C. A. WHITE, Esq.—Dear Sir; Having examined your original map, embracing that portion of Washington Territory west of the Cascade Range, I desire to add my testimony to its value. Having been engaged for a number of years in the surveys from Cape Flattery to the Head of Puget Sound, I have examined this portion of your map more critically than others, and I take pleasure in vouching for its general correctness

This map will fill a want that has long been felt, not only among the residents of this Territory, but others, who are desirous of obtaining information of this portion of the "Far West," and I trust that we shall soon see it in a form suitable for general distribution.

JAS. S. LAWSON,
Asst U S C S.

We endorse the annexed opinion of Jas. S Lawson, Esq., and will add that Mr Chas A White is a practical surveyor, and has had access to the township maps in the two Land Offices in this Territory, as also the Coast Survey charts; and we can vouch for his map of Washington Territory, west of the Cascade Range of Mountains, as being correct, and the only good map of the same territory that has been made.

SALEM NEWS.—The Unionist of the 2d says:

The funeral obsequies of Mrs. Parrish was attended by a large number of persons. She was buried, at her own request, in the yard of the old homestead until a permanent family vault is prepared.

The rain on Thursday night was no ordinary affair. August went out, September came in with a young flood of the most prodigious proportions. It rained all night, but about eleven o'clock it commenced to pour down, and for two hours the heavens were opened and the rain descended and the floods came.

The steamer Success started up to Albany yesterday morning. This is the first trip to that point for more than a month.

The Albany made her appearance yesterday afternoon, at an early hour. The river is at a very comfortable stage for navigation.

The river was raising quite rapidly yesterday evening. The water at the last observation was fifteen inches above low water mark.

Mrs. Drake, a colored woman, who resided above Independence, died last Tuesday. She leaves a husband and three children.

The lovers in Polk county had planned it to meet by moonlight—if there should be any moon—proceed to the house of a magistrate or minister, and there get the knot tied as fast as fate, but as fate would have it the girl's father came with a revolver in hand and took her home.

REV. DR. ECKMAN.—This eminent Jewish Rabbi, late of San Francisco, is now in this city, having come hither to take charge of the congregation of Israelites of Portland. Many of our citizens are acquainted with Dr. Eckman, and know something of his labors in behalf of humanity, and especially of his efforts in the cause of the education of the children of the poor, and all speak in terms of the highest commendation, and will bid him a hearty welcome to Oregon. Speaking of his departure from California the S. F. Call says: "Rev. Dr. Julius Eckman, the pioneer Rabbi of the Pacific coast, having accepted an invitation to take charge of the Israelite congregation in Portland, Oregon, will take his departure for that city on Saturday next. Dr. Eckman is one of the best men that ever lived in San Francisco. He came here nearly twenty years ago, and although he possessed the ability to have amassed a large fortune, he chose to devote himself to the education of the youth. Hundreds of poor boys were not only taught free of expense, but were furnished with text books from the Doctor's private purse. The result is that in his old age, he is obliged to continue the battle of life, under the disadvantages that always attend upon those who are very generous. We regret to learn that he intends to leave them, they are pleased to learn that his future pathway promises to be strewn with more roses than heretofore. In common with a host of others, we wish him good success in the field of his labors."

TRIBUNE.—We clip the following items from the Herald:

Bishop Scott has "varied his anniversary address to the clergy and laity of the Diocese of Oregon and Washington Territory, this morning at 10 o'clock.

Prof. Gatch has been making decided improvements in the public school of the Portland Academy, preparatory to the opening of the school on Monday next. In addition to the management of this institution exhibits the best possible tastes.

Services at the opening of the Annual Convocation of the Episcopal Church, on Thursday evening, were preached by Rev. Chas. Bonnel, of Salem, and by Rev. Dr. Morris. There were Right Rev. B Wistar Morris, Rev. E. Hoyt, Rev. Chas. Bonnel, Rev. Johnson McCook, Rev. R. W. Selwood, Rev. T. M. Hyland, Rev. Mr. Ballard, Rev. R. Ballwood, Rev. J. T. Roberts, Rev. T. M. Hyland and Rev. L. Daly.

The Evangelical Lutheran Society, Rev. Mr. Sprecher pastor, will commence regular divine service in the Pilot Hall, Sept. 5th, (to-morrow) at 11 o'clock. The Sunday School will meet at the same place at 9 o'clock.

The Methodists will be campmeeting on the Salem circuit, near Macleay, to commence Sept. 18th.

DARING.—But few items of news from East Multnomah have reached us this week. From the Standard of yesterday we gather the following:

Quite a snow storm on the summit of the Cascades on Wednesday, the 25th ultimo.

Quartz mines, recently discovered, have created excitement in Idaho. Dr. Betts, of Idaho City, has gone to these mines, wrote Aug. 20, to a friend: "I believe this is the richest camp ever struck in Idaho Territory." The Boise Statesman of the 21st says: "The excitement in Boise county over the late silver boom is almost unprecedented. Large amounts of specimens have been shipped from Idaho City."

Many families have recently settled on the Cowlitz River, in Washington Territory.

Indians are reported to be foraging around Oregon City at the big "Huckleberry Patch," near Clackamas.

The Committee of the Executive Committee of the Dalles Agricultural Society has invited ministers of the Gospel throughout the State to officiate at the Fair Grounds on Sunday during the Fair, commencing on the 17th inst.

A CITIZEN.—"Citizen," in the Herald yesterday, speaking of an item in your paper in relation to the construction of a bridge across the Willamette above Morrison street, says:

"Your item casts blame on the authorities for not assessing the property, as was done in the case of a bridge on Front street."

This can be answered in a very few words. The property holders in the southern part of the city petitioned against the improvement of all the streets by the City Council."

"Now we would ask "Citizen" a question or two which can be answered in a very few words. Does not the prosperity of the people of the southern part of the city depend chiefly upon what they will improve the value of their property? Have not the people of the north portion of the city regularly paid their proportion of the taxes going into the general fund out of which the bridge was built?

TWO CITIZENS.

The picnic and supper given by the ladies of East Portland, last night, was a decided success. The hall was crowded with members and friends, all of whom seemed to enjoy themselves with great zest. The exercises consisted of music by W. W. Thayer, Esq., an address by Mr. Caples, and an essay by Mrs. Caples, with excellent music by Miss Anderson on the organ, Mr. Buchanan as tenor, Mr. Hitchcock as bass, and a very fine sample had soprano or alto, which lent the music well, and Mrs. Anderson. A bountiful repast was spread about ten o'clock, of which all present proceeded to partake with a good relish. The evening was spent in a most delightful manner. From what we saw of the literary and musical department, we infer that the intended entertainment was a success. We left at eleven o'clock when all appeared to be enjoying themselves very finely.

DUEL.—Last evening considerable excitement was created on Front Street by the pranks of a lady lately from Salem, whose husband has kept a book store there for years, he and his wife having separated. She went into the store late, and with threats and force of arms, drove from the premises and closed the door on the latter, but the more sensible course and gave the matter into the hands of the officers of the law, who soon ejected her and installed the former proprietor of the premises in possession. Out of respect for the parties concerned, who will be ashamed of their conduct after they reflect upon them, we forbear giving names. Such things are very unpleasant and annoying to all concerned.

—Going through the extensive ware rooms of Corbett & Co., one will see about the finest stock of crockery, carpets and house-furnishing goods ever kept in Portland. By the last steamer they have received all new styles of bed-room and parlor sets, the latest of design and beauty of finish manufactured. Their large store and warehouses are filled with goods in their line of all qualities and prices.

—We have received a circular containing the Annual Report of the Department of Medicine of Willamette University, for the year 1869-70, and a catalogue of its students and graduates. The prospects of the medical school are very flattering, and arrangements are made to furnish every facility to the young men of Oregon who wish to become proficient in a knowledge of the healing art.

—Post Quartermaster Wakefield, disbursing agent, has paid out coin to the amount of several thousand dollars due for work done on the United States Military Road. Payments will be made once a month. A large number of men are now at work quarrying stone for the foundations of the buildings, and the amount of stone after will probably amount to $10,000 or $12,000.

FOR SALE.—We call attention to the advertisement of store for sale at Clequato, W. T. To a man with a few thousand dollars capital, there are no better openings in the country. The location is a good one, being at the head of navigation of the growing county of Lewis, and on the road to the Sound. The store has done a business of $30,000 per year, and might be increased.

MISSING.—A boy named Mark Smith has been missing from Vancouver since about the 20th of August last. He is supposed to have gone either to Oak Point or Lewis River. Any one knowing of his whereabouts would relieve the anxiety of an aged father by informing Malcom Smith, care of Rev. Father Mann, Vancouver.

KILLING DOGS.—We learn that a dog killer has been appointed by the Marshal and has entered upon the discharge of his duties. It therefore behooves those who have dogs that are worth it to see that the tax is paid, that the proper collar is put on them, or they may be "sent adrift or cut off, and that without remedy."

—The Monthly Missionary Concert, by the Methodist Sunday School, will be given at the Church, corner of Taylor and Third streets, to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock. All are earnestly invited to be present. The exercises will consist of essays, addresses and declamations by the scholars and others.

—RYAN BRO. are introducing a new style to-day, which they call the W. H. Seward Hat. We have seen the Hat, and we must say that it is not only the nicest hat of the kind we have seen but it is the only one of the kind in the world.

CIRCUIT COURT.—This court, P. A. Marquam, County Judge, presiding, will convene next Monday morning. Reports that but a small amount of business is on the docket.

DEATH.—The friends of Mrs. Major Berry will regret to learn that she is lying quite ill at the Dalles, where she has come two or three times for the benefit of her health.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.—The United States District Court, Hon. M. P. Deady, Judge presiding, will meet on next Monday, pursuant to adjournment.

GOING.—Several lawyers and some litigants leave for Salem to-day, to be present at the Supreme Court, which meets at that place on Monday.

TO NIGHT.—Lovers of the "merry dance" will find an opportunity to enjoy themselves at Prof. Cardinell's Dancing Hall this evening.

FOR SALEM.—We learn that Hon. W. H. Seward will go to Salem to-day, remaining perhaps until Tuesday.

JEWISH HOLIDAY.—This festival will commence to-morrow, at sundown o'clock P. M.

The North Sea Ship Canal.

The following account of a great engineering project in the interests of commerce is taken from the London Times, which says:

That great trade which in the sixteenth century placed Amsterdam at the head of the commercial cities of Europe gradually declined, partly from the rise of other ports, but principally from the difficulties of navigation, caused by the silting up of the Zuyder Zee, and, above all, the Pampus Bar. Large vessels were obliged to discharge their cargoes outside, and were then floated over the bar by means of camels, which, when the water was pumped out of them, raised the vessel with them.

To remedy this the North Holland Canal was cut from Buiksluyt, opposite Amsterdam, to the Helder, a distance of fifty-one miles, and this has been extensively used by vessels of large burden seeking the North Sea. Throughout its length it is one hundered and twenty four feet broad at the surface and thirty-one feet at the bottom, and is available for vessels drawing eighteen feet of water. The open sea can be reached in a time varying from eighteen hours to two days. But in winter even this great highway is blocked up by ice, and a large outlay has to be incurred in keeping it clear. Speculators and engineers cast longing looks on the narrow land and shallow water between the Zuyder and the North seas—the latter from the obvious capabilities of such a route (by which thirty six miles would be saved), the former, because they saw not only a direct outlet for Amsterdam trade, but a still greater inducement in the land that would arise on each side from out of the waste of water of the Wijker Meer and the Ij. But the scheme was one difficult to launch, and the panic of 1866 almost quenched it at its birth; the Dutch Government, however, stepped in, and by guaranteeing four per cent. and redemption of capital at par, placed it on an equality with Dutch stock and gave the undertaking a permanent basis. The amount of the contract is twenty eight millions of florins (1s 8d), of which ten millions are in the shares of the company, eight millions subscribed in Amsterdam and the remaining ten millions in prospective land to be recovered by the drainage. The works, the plans for which were furnished by Hawkshaw, in conjunction with the Dutch engineer, Dirks, are to be finished in 1876, and judging by the present rate of progress, will be completed in far less time.

The contract has been taken, and the work divides itself into three sections. 1. The North Sea harbor works. 2. The canal proper. 3. The dam and lock at the Pampus entrance. Each section offers features of great interest, though there is one difficulty common to all—namely, the extraordinary soft bottom and shifting foundation that seems to prevail over all Holland. Ordinary bottom there is none, and the natives predicted that the treacherous sands of the North Sea would swallow up the harbor as soon as made. The North Sea works will not only form the entrance to the canal but will be the only harbor of refuge between Helder and Rotterdam, along a coast terribly conspicuous for its fatalities. It is all composed of low sand dunes, and is swept by a violent surf, which makes it impossible for any vessel once embayed to escape. The breakwater will embrace an area of two hundred acres, each pier running out 5,000 feet, of which 1,500 feet on the north side are complete. The minimum depth will be twenty-six feet, and the width at the entrance 853 feet. The direction of the harbor will be nearly due east and west, and the distance from Harwich, the same as to Rotterdam—an important feature in the direct traffic between London and Amsterdam. About 1,000 yards from the harbor a large basin with locks will form the commencement of the canal. By the specifications of the bill the canal will not be supplied with water from the North Sea.

From the canal basin to Velsen, on the Wijker Meer, the depth will be twenty-six feet, the width at the surface 197 feet, at the bottom eighty-eight feet. The peninsula called Buiten Huisen has been cut through and the banks advanced into the open waters of the Ij.

A very important supplementary part of the work is the formation of branch canals and dikes for the purpose of keeping open the navigation to the various towns on the Ij, such as Beyerwijk and Zaadam, and the equally important drainage system from the Haarlem Meer, which at present finds its outlets at Spaarndam and Halfwag, which, but for these precautions, would soon swamp the country. This entails an enormous quantity of extra dike, the whole amounting to about forty miles.

The third section of the work is the damming out of the Zuyder Zee between Fardenbook and Schellingwoude, three miles below Amsterdam. It was originally intended to carry it across lower down, but the distance would have been greater, while no tangible benefit would have followed. From the south or Pardenbook side the dam is nearly half-way, the operation consisting of laying a foundation of ballast, on the top of which are thick fascines of willow, kept down in their places by blocks of basalt or limestone from the Rhine. The remaining portion is of sand and clay. The chief difficulty of the work is on the north side, where the lock-gates are to be placed, and for the building of which a gigantic cofferdam had been formed, in which eight steam and two hand pile-driving machines work without intermission. The number of piles, each forty-five feet long is to be eight thousand five hundred. In October last a high tide made a complete breach in the cofferdam, filling it in three or four minutes and sucking four vessels into the vortex like lightning. A repetition of this disaster was guarded against by the formation of an inner ring of piles, the intervening space being filled with sand. Three locks will be built here, the entrance of the middle one being twenty and of the side ones fifteen yards each. The lock floor will be of concrete placed on timber, while the walls will be on cross beams placed on piles. By the side of the lock will be the pumping engines to regulate the level of the canal, which is required to be never less than half a yard below the Amsterdam mean level of high and low water.

Thus, in addition to the other advantages, the canal will furnish the landholders on its banks and the neighboring towns a fall of a foot and a half for their drainage, a thing unheard of in these provinces, where a dead level is the rule. The works of the North Sea Canal will give almost another province to the Dutch, who are to be admired for their invincible perseverance and steady industry.

Proposals for a Steam Tug.

WHEREAS, BY AN ACT OF THE LEGISLATIVE Assembly of the State of Oregon, to provide for placing a Steam Tug on the Columbia River Bar, approved the 28th day of October, 1869, the undersigned were appointed Commissioners on behalf of the State, to invite Proposals, and contract for placing and keeping upon the pilot grounds of said Bar a powerful Steam Tugboat of sufficient size, strength and motive power for towing and piloting vessels across said bar in all weather, when it can be crossed by the best class of steamers and sailing vessels.

The consideration which the State will agree to pay, as provided by said act, is the sum of $30,000 as follows: $12,000 for the first, $6,000 for the second, $5,000 for the third, $4,000 for the fourth, and $3,000 for the fifth year, in gold coin, payable quarterly; also, the towing and pilotage at $8 per foot draft for the first 12 feet, and $10 per foot for any excess above 12 feet—and a revocation of all other licenses for the aforesaid pilot ground.

Bond and security for the performance of the contract is to be required of the contractors in the penalty of $40,000.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that the undersigned, on behalf of the State of Oregon are prepared to contract as aforesaid, and for that purpose hereby invite proposals—which will be received and considered until further notice, and none will be binding until accepted by the Commission.

SATURDAY MORNING, SEPT 4, 1869.

The Elections this Year.

The Republicans never bring out their whole strength except on great occasions and then they generally win. It is not to be expected that they will this year maintain the great majorities of last fall; now they have less incentive to action, and no great result is depending on their efforts. Being in power and in no immediate danger of losing their pre-eminence, they will naturally take it easy this year, and accordingly will not in many of the States repeat the great majorities which were thrown for General Grant.

In California, while they have not done so well as they did last fall, they have done better than they did in the last State election. Through the agency of an independent movement, which derived most of its strength from Republican efforts and Republican votes, they have succeeded in breaking the might of the Democratic power in San Francisco. This, in itself, is an achievement of no little importance. But outside of San Francisco the Republicans of California have made no effort worth the name, to carry the election. Everything has been so still that no one would have suspected that an election was just about to occur. There was nothing impending which was deemed worth making a struggle for. No Senator is to be chosen, and as it is universally conceded that the fifteenth amendment will be ratified without the vote of California, the Republicans cared little about securing the Legislature. In this body, we suppose, the Democrats will have a majority. That party, however, should not have been allowed to carry Sacramento, and would not have done so had it not been for the Republican apathy and dissensions. In that city the Republicans are divided into two wings, and in all their recent local elections some of the party have been in the sulks. On such occasions they invariably permit the Democrats to carry the city and county, though when their votes are united, as in the Presidential election, they have a large majority.

It cannot be doubted that the strength of the Republican party in California is seriously impaired by animosities which have been generated from the quarrels of the last general election, when Gorham met so severe a defeat. This state of things creates apathy and makes many care little whether the party achieves success or not. When such a feeling as this is added to the natural carelessness of success which grows out of the fact that there is really nothing at this time to expect, for we see at once why the Republicans throughout the State have made no effort to win.

There is nothing in the result of this election to discourage Republicans here or elsewhere. The Republicans of California have done quite as well as there was any reason to expect under the circumstances. In a State where the parties are so entirely balanced the Republicans can never win unless they make a special effort to do it.

Cuba.

Rumors of the cession of Cuba to the insurgents by the government continues. Spain seems to be about ready to relinquish the idea of quelling the revolt and of re-establishing her authority throughout the island. The continuance of the present policy of our Government toward Spain and the Cubans before the meeting of the next session of Congress may be considered problematical; and it is evident now that an acknowledgement by the United States of the belligerent rights of the insurgents would give them such an advantage that Spain could no longer hope to subdue them. The weak and tottering Government of that country has received shameful warnings from the French and English press that it had better not persist in its attempt to recover its hold upon so pertinacious a colony as Cuba. From all quarters simultaneously Spain is warned that the time has come to let go. And now that she has got to the point of debating about it between herself, the release of the island cannot be far distant. The failure of Spain to put down this comparatively insignificant rebellion in a reasonable time is only the weakness of a power which occupies so important a place on the map of the world.

In General.

The collegiate year at the Wallamet University, Salem, will commence on the 13th inst. This institution is in a flourishing condition and is satisfying the expectations and wishes of its friends and patrons. In the Medical Department lectures will begin on the 4th November.

At a place fifteen miles from Evanstown station on the Union Pacific Railroad, in Shelby, Utah, Professor Henry L. Scott, of Georgetown, Ky., found a large Indian mound within which he discovered human remains, an earthenware jar, an iron bracelet, a steel fishing clasp, a silver ornament like an artist's pallet, etc. He assigns it an age of about 1,000 years, and claims that it indicates the work of mound builders of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys across Utah towards the coast of California.

Col. Wallace, Democratic candidate for Justice of the Supreme Court in California, was a prominent Know Nothing in 1855, and delivered mighty arguments in favor of driving all foreigners out of the country. He is again on the stump in his State, and the newspapers say that he is pitching into the Chinese in the same style and with the same arguments that he was wont to pitch into the Irish and Germans and other foreigners—but his vim now is not equal to what it was then—that is, that he is not as hefty after the Mongols as he was after the Celts and Saxons!

Congressman Axtell, (Democrat) of San Francisco, in a recent speech delivered in that city, declared that had he the power he would strike from the California statutes the law which excludes Chinese from testifying in courts of justice. This declaration inenses the San Francisco Herald, and it calls upon all Democrats "to renounce, abjure, disown, repudiate and put from you with all your might, the damnable heresy of Mr. Axtell on the subject of Chinese testimony." It is painful to observe that our Democratic brethren are so inharmonious in their views regarding this sole remaining principle of their faith,—the Chinaman.

It turns out that the imperfect statement relative to the number of States which have ratified the fifteenth amendment, that appeared in the telegraphic dispatches the other day, was sent by Senator Casserly from New York. His object was to convey the impression that only twelve States have ratified. He intended," says the Stockton Independent "to convey an impression he knew to be false, and deliberately and intentionally sent it forward, with the additional claim to credence which appearing under his Senatorial frank would give. What sensitive patriot can restrain a blush at view of such infamous prostitution of the respectability and credit due the Senatorial office!"

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS

The Republican Banner (Democratic) of Nashville is greatly disgusted with the New York World for claiming the result in Tennessee as a victory by the Democracy represented by the World.

The office of County Clerk, at Springfield, Ill., has been held in succession by father and son since Sangamon county was created, in 1821. Noah Matheny, the present incumbent, is the Republican nominee for re election.

The Congressional election in Georgia will not take place until November, 1870, in accordance with an act passed by the late Legislature. In the meantime the State is unrepresented in the National House of Representatives.

Ex-Senator R. M. T. Hunter has written a letter to the Conservative Executive State Committee of Virginia, urging, in any event, the postponement of the election of United States Senators until after the meeting of Congress, when he expects all disabilities will be removed.

At the general convention of German journalists at Vienna, the idea of holding next year a convention of German and German-American journalists in one of the large cities of the United States, met with much favor. Cincinnati was mentioned as the best point for that purpose.

Mr. Vallandigham thinks that the wisest thing a Democratic politician can do now is to lay low and keep a keen eye out for the next turn of the kaleidoscope. If the Ohio Democrats had "seen" his qualifications for a gubernatorial candidate, he would have less difficulty of vision.

The St. Louis Democrat ably refutes the notion that the National Capital has a more wholesome political atmosphere when removed from a large city, by instancing the case of the New York Legislature at Albany, which that journal says, "is taken by storm by the lobby from New York city."

THE JOURNEY AROUND THE WORLD FROM NEW YORK.—By the Pacific Railroad we reach San Francisco in less than seven days, running time. The finest ocean steamers in the world, each one of some 4,000 or 5,000 tons, are there awaiting the traveler, take him, in twenty-one days, to Yokohama, (the voyage may be made in eighteen), and thence, in six days more, to any part of China. From Hong Kong to Calcutta it is fourteen days by several lines of steamers which touch at Singapore, Ceylon, Madras, or ports on the coast of Burmah. Or, if one prefers, he can go from Singapore to Bangkok, in Siam, and cross the narrow isthmus to Burmah and Calcutta. From the latter place there is now a railroad completed far up into the north of India, on the borders of Cashmere and Afghanistan, 150 miles above Delhi, running through nearly all the great cities of northern India, Benares, Allahabad, etc., provided with luxurious cars and all the appliances and comforts for travel which any country can afford. A short time since I received a foreign paper containing an account of a railroad excursions from Calcutta to Umbala, 1153 miles northwest of Calcutta, along the Himalayah mountains, in 41 hours. Another road intersects at Allahabad, 629 miles to Bombay, where it connects with the overland route to and from Egypt, in twelve or thirteen days by steamer and rail from Bombay to Cairo. From Cairo one can reach almost any port in Europe on the Mediterranean in from one to five days, and home again in twelve days more, making the actual traveling time around the world only seventy-eight days. All this accomplished by first-class steamers and railroads, with the exception of 100 miles of dekgeri travel in India,—to be superseded by the iron rail before we shall reach India. There will then be an unbroken route of travel, directly around the world, by the most luxurious modes of travel known, so that one can travel the entire distance almost as comfortably as he can stay at home.—Eusebius, in the N. Y. Observer.

THE PROHIBITION LIQUOR LAW IN MASSACHUSETTS.—The Boston Transcript of Aug. 16th says:

It cannot be pretended except for effect—as such assertion would be mere pretense—that the enactment styled by some of its friends "prohibitory," which was placed upon the statute books of Massachusetts by violating all parliamentary usage, is anything but a fraud so far as the extirpation of the traffic in intoxicating liquors is concerned. In its practical working few have the hardihood to deny it to be a license law with the privilege of licensing vested in a State official, whose acts may be supervised by the Chief Magistrate of the Commonwealth. Setting aside the legislative requirement, it is only enforced up to the point that will not too greatly outrage public opinion. The small dealers experienced its arbitrary provisions, while the State functionary entrusted with its execution permits the sale of distilled spirits in influential quarters and illegally casts the ægis of his station around one branch of the business which the law-making department expressly refused to protect. It is true he is driven to this course by the necessities of his position—the impossibility of destroying a trade that will last as long as human appetite. The inherent difficulties in the law cannot be overcome by any officer, however desirous of doing his duty. Therefore the person who consents to assume the responsibility of its execution must do so with the unquestioned expectation of being guilty of official delinquency. And the extent of this lapse depends upon the measure of "prohibition" which legislative folly has sought to impart to the statute.

The Mining and Scientific Press gives a representation of the total eclipse of the sun, as it appeared at Des Moines, Iowa, on the 7th ult. The full size of the moon appears perfectly black with a bright ring round its edge; then comes a modified zone with the rays of the sun penetrating it, and outside of that another nearly totally dark. Immediately on the outer edge of the right hand and upper side of the moon, and protruding nearly through the luminous streak or ring, are several bright horns. These are, by astronomers, denominated mountains of flame, and are said to extend as high as 70,000 miles above the surface of the sun, or one-twelfth of the sun's whole diameter. These tongues or mountains protrude from the sun's surface from every side, and can only be seen when the balance of the luminary is shaded, as in an eclipse. So soon as the moon moves away so as to expose the body of the sun to our gaze, the light becomes so intense as to swallow up these lesser lights and they disappear in an instant. Astronomers are still more confirmed by the observations they were able to make during the eclipse with the spectroscope and other improved instruments, that the sun is composed of matter similar to our earth and surrounded by a luminous atmosphere in which combustion is constantly going on.

'FRAID 'TWOULDN'T HOLD OUT.—A passenger on the Little Miami Railroad Lightning Express relates that one night a tall old negro, in droll alarm about the shortening of his through ticket, accosted him as follows:

"Look here, boss, I wants to ax you a question. I's a good way from home, and wants to know if I's on the right track?"

"Where do you want to go, uncle?" we asked.

"To Fort Gibson, way down in Arkinsaw, sah. Now, boss, I's ignorant, and wants to know if I's on the right kear for Cincinnati."

We assured our negro friend he was all right for Cincinnati, when he broke loose as follows:

"Look here, boss, I doesn't know nothin' when I'm away from home—clean fact, sah. When I started out from Washington City I had a powerful long string of dese heah"—exhibiting that portion of his through ticket which had not been taken up. "Ebery now and then a gentleman comes round and tars off a little piece. Tell you, sah, it's gitten mighty short. 'Fraid it ain't gwine to hold out until I gets through."

This last remark created quite a laugh, in which the negro joined heartily.

THE VICEROY OF EGYPT.—The Viceroy of Egypt, who spends the greater part of his time and money in Paris and London, throws about the latter in such quantities that now and then he is sadly put to it for resources. During his recent sojourn at Enus Bonnes, in France, his bill for telegraphic dispatches alone was 22,000 francs. He was accustomed to send long documents to Cairo by the Mediterranean line. On private concerts given to him, with huge bands of musicians and singers, he spent immense sums. A good story is told of the joke he played on the many wives he has at home just before his recent return to Cairo. He purchased 55,000 francs' worth of false diamonds and jewelry and sent them down to be distributed to the ladies of his harem, who will doubtless take them for the veritable magnificence, as they are not connoisseurs in the value of that which glitters.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO SEPTEMBER 3.

Pittsburg Dispatch.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 3.—Senator Morton, of Indiana, addresses a Republican meeting in this city to-night.

Great preparations are making for the celebration of Humboldt's centennial. Bleiser, of Berlin, has been telegraphed to cast a duplicate of the New York statute of Humboldt, which is to be located in Allegheny.

Cincinnati Dispatch.

CINCINNATI, Sept 3.—The Republican Convention to day nominated six candidates for the State Senate, ten representatives and six county officers. A resolution was adopted instructing and requiring a pledge from the legislative candidates to procure the passage of a law reducing the compensation of county officers to a fixed sum, the amount of fees and endowments in excess of such sum to be paid into the County Treasury for the benefit of said tax payers.

Nashville Dispatch.

NASHVILLE, Sept 3.—A part of the Texas delegation to the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, have arrived in this city and the remainder will be here in two days. They will leave on Monday with the Grand Sire for San Francisco. The delegation from South Carolina, including a Past Grand Sire, will arrive on Saturday.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Commissioner Osborne has rendered a decision in relation to alleged custom house frauds. He has committed Spear, in default of $50,000 bail, to await the action of the Grand Jury.

It is rumored that railroad fares will be reduced to ten dollars to Chicago.

ALBANY, Sept. 3.—Adam Van Allen has been re-appointed Cashier of the First National Bank.

Edward Clark, one of the Trustees of the iron moulders' association has been arrested, charged with embezzling funds.

Leavenworth Dispatch.

LEAVENWORTH, Sept 3.—The last rail of the Leavenworth, Atchison and North western Railroad connecting the central branch of the Pacific Railroad with Leavenworth and St. Louis via Missouri Pacific, was laid yesterday, and first train passed to Atchison.

Statue of Vanderbilt.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The papers to-day contain a detailed description of a colossal bronze statue with allegorical accessories erected in honor of Commodore Vanderbilt on the summit of the western wall of the immense Hudson river depot, situated on the former site of St. John's Park. The work cost half a million dollars, and will be unveiled on the 28th. It is reportde that Vanderbilt and friends have obtained control of a majority of the stock of the Great Western Railroad in Canada, and will elect a board of directors in his interest at the next election, and secure a consolidation of interests from New York to Detroit, and thence via Michigan Central, to Chicago.

Southern Crops.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 3.—The late crop reports from all sections of Louisiana and western Texas represent cotton crops as very promising. Many entertain the opinion that all will be saved that can be gathered with the present labor. The cane, though backward, promises an abundant yield.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Mr. Willis, bow oar of the Oxford crew, in a letter to the Times, explains how the Oxfords beat the Harvards by only one length and three quarters. He says that some mistake in placing the flag deceived them. They eased up while the Harvards pulled strong as ever. He says, however, that the Oxfords fully acquiesce in the decision of the judges. The Harvards six men have sailed for New York on the City of Antwerp.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The Times to-day says recent information of undoubted authenticity, contradicts the late rumors that the American treaty with China has been rejected. Prince Kung in no way repudiates the treaty. His delay in ratifying is owing to his desire to first complete the negotiations with European powers. The Times adds: Whether Mr. Burlingame is negotiating for the advantage of any particular power or not, is of no particular consequence, if his negotiations have the effect of bringing China out of her isolation. The merits of the American treaty are unquestionably great. The point is that China should recognize their capability of being impersonated, and be bound by agreement concluded in names by their representatives. Had this treaty been rejected, it would appear that China had not learned the significance of its own decision to appoint Ambassadors.

PARIS, Sept. 3.—In the Senate yesterday Prince Napoleon made another speech, wherein he gave utterance to very liberal views calling for additional reforms including a more complete responsibility of the ministry.

The Minister of the Interior in reply protested against the idea promulgated by the Prince, adding, significantly, that those ideas would never govern the Council as long as the present ministry should retain the confidence of the Emperor.

The discussion was continued in the Senate to-day. M. Desegur termed the speech of Prince Napoleon scandalous.

M. Devirns denied that the Senate commission disapproves of the Senatus Consultum. He said they only disapproved such a Senatus Consultum as Prince Napoleon desired to have. After further debate four articles of the Senatus Consultum were adopted.

M. Mogane is preparing financial reforms which it is estimated will produce a surplus of sixty millions francs, of which twenty millions will be applied to the increase of the smaller salaries of government employees, twenty-five millions to a reduction of octroi duty in Paris and twenty millions to the reduction of the land tax.

The Empress has left Cherbourg and will arrive at Paris to-morrow.

The Journal Officiale announces that Rear Admiral Lefevre has been appointed to the command of the Naval Division of the Antilles.

The North American Press asserts that Prince Napoleon had a conference with the Emperor, at which the latter expressed his approval of several ideas of the Prince.

MADRID, Sept. 2.—Journals here are despondent about Cuba. They demand full official information of the state of affairs on that island.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—Selby is elected Mayor by 116 majority, and the people have elected, besides, their candidate for Clerk and five Commissioners. Laidly, candidate for Harbor Commissioner, came near an election. With the exceptions noted, the whole Democratic ticket is elected by majorities ranging from 1,400 to 1,700. Majorities on the Legislative ticket range in the neighborhood of three thousand. It is pretty clear from this that if only party tickets had been in the field, the Democrats would have swept everything. Supervisors: 2d Ward, J. Harrold, Republican; 4th Ward, T. M. McCarthy, Democrat; 6th Ward, Alex. Badlam, Republican; 8th Ward, Chas. Story, Republican; 10th, James Adams, Republican; 12th Ward, M. J. Kell, Democrat.

Thomas Rilan was garroted by two men on Third street last night. James Roe and John Thompson have been arrested and held on suspicion.

An infant eleven years old was instantly killed at ten o'clock this morning, by being run over by a locomotive of the steam paddy railroad, on Tenth street, near Harrison. No blame is attached to the engineer.

A young married woman, giving her name as Harrison, tried to kill herself by taking poison, yesterday, at Brooklyn Hotel. She failed. Domestic trouble is said to be the cause. She came from Alameda county.

The Assessor of San Francisco District has fixed the price of legal tenders for revenue purposes for September, at 74¢.

A meeting of merchants is called for 11 o'clock to-morrow morning, at the Chamber of Commerce, to listen to remarks from General Wallbridge and other members of the Pacific Railroad Commission.

Mining Stocks.

Mining stocks this morning were in light request and prices were weak. Ophir, 19; Gould & Curry, 83; Savage, 52, Hale & Norcross, 12, Crown Point, 28, Yellow Jacket, 47½; Kentuck, 18; Overman, 12.

NEVADA.

VIRGINIA, Sept. 3.—Deadman, convicted of the murder of Albert Sheringer, will receive sentence in the District Court (Judge Rising) on Monday next.

Geo. Hall is on trial for the murder of Cain. But five jurymen were obtained from the first panel and a venire was issued for fifty more.

Bullion shipmention the 2d was $2,302,596.

The Republicans and Conservatives are jubilant over the results of the election in San Francisco, and the Democrats hide their chagrin in sleep over the result in the State.

REMARKABLE CURIOSITY.—There is on exhibition in Washington (D. C.) a curiosity in the shape of a fish head. The fish is known as the "Bonnaconda," and was caught in the Amazon river, South America, by George Malcolm O'Neill, Commander of the Second Battalion, Peruvian Royal Army, on the 16th of May, 1867. The head is well preserved, and is thirteen inches long from the gill to the tip of the mouth. In the upper jaw there are two sharp teeth about half an inch long, and the lower jaw contains a similar tooth, while each side of the jaw contains long rows of teeth. In resemblance its nearest approach is to the alligator of our Southern waters.

The Portland Herald of last Sunday had an attack upon the United States Courts, in which it denounced them as "engines of tyranny." We believe that certain class of people have always looked upon them as such! The poet had such fellows in his mind's eye when he wrote—

"So rogue e'er felt the halter draw
With good opinion of the law."

THE EQUALIZER.

Treating Disease by Vibration.

DR. H. A. BODMAN,

HAVING PURCHASED HARRIS' EQUALIZER and the Patent Rights for Multnomah county, would respectfully inform the public generally that he is prepared to treat fully those Chronic cases on whom all other modes of cure have failed.

Having used this Instrument in connection with my former practice for about three months, he is satisfied that it will accomplish all that is claimed for it in Chronic Disease. He does not believe in the use of advertising cases cured, but any number of testimonials can be seen on record at his office, consisting principally of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Paralysis, Curvature of the Spine, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Weak Chest, Consumption, Narrow Chests, Weak Lungs, Weak Backs, Sciatica, Lumbago, and Rheumatic Limbs, Sciatica, Spasms, Epilepsy or Fits, St. Vitus Dance, Prolapsus Uteri
